OBJECTIVE

Enthusiastic sport professional, a former World and Olympic Taekwondo champion. Highly motivated, hard-working, and result-driven with two years of experience within the sport management field. Seeking a challenging position tailored to governmental and professional sports firms or international sports institution, that would expand my learnings, sharpen my skills, and allow me to contribute significantly to the different organization's success. I aim to help society thrive despite barriers and challenges as I had the honor to be part of a global sports federation, which has facilitated the leverage of my interpersonal skills and professional business acumen.
