D. Vision for WT in next 4-years

Vision Statement – Alexander Hübl

Taekwondo is first and foremost a sport, a dynamic global discipline that thrives on both grassroots participation and elite performance. For almost 40 years I have been deeply involved in Taekwondo as an athlete, coach, federation president and academic. At the University of Groningen I work in research and education, focusing on applied mathematical modeling for planning and decision-making. I want to use this strategic mindset to strengthen World Taekwondo with structured, transparent and athlete-centered approaches.

My vision is to create the conditions for athletes to achieve their highest performance, built on a strong foundation of grassroots development and broad participation. The Olympic Games remain essential for our sport's visibility, and I fully support efforts to win more medals and ensure that Poomsae is included in the Olympic program.

To stay relevant, our competition rules must evolve continuously, reflecting the needs of athletes, audiences and the global sports community. While we move forward with innovation and new ideas, we should also value the cultural aspects of Taekwondo that have shaped it into the sport it is today.

Moving Taekwondo forward is something we can only achieve together. This means developing modern, fair and exciting competition systems, embracing new technologies such as data, artificial intelligence and digital media, and ensuring that both elite and grassroots Taekwondo can grow side by side.

Guided by the principle "Peace is more precious than triumph," I want to help Taekwondo evolve as a sport, support its athletes and strengthen our global community.
